Dear Harold

I was sorry to read the news of Judge McRae's decision. It seems he agreed with all you had said but turned James Earl down all the same. Better luck, I hope, on appeal.

I thought you would be amused by this piece by Copeland. Apparently he told the Times that he was not an agent of the C.I.A. since, in fact, his duty was to train agents!

We hope you are well and that Lil is not too much snowed under by all the taxes.

With love to you both,

Yours ever,

Ian.
